LONDON, OCTOBER 29.

ACCORDING to letters from Lisbon, the court of Portugal has been obliged to purchaſe a peace of the Algerines for a very conſiderable ſum of money and warlike ſtores. An example, which will probably be followed by ſome other European ſtates.

It is ſaid an extenſive grant of land in Eaſt-Florida, will ſoon be made out in the name of his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales.

NOVEMBER 2.

We are informed, that the m——y are vaſtly embaraſſed, whether to take any, or what notice at the opening of the ſeſſions, of the various petitions that have been preſented.

It is rumoured, that a certain American Governor has ſeveral papers of very great conſequence in his poſſeſſion; which he will lay before an auguſt aſſembly, ſoon after the opening of the ſeſſions.

Mr Wilkes, notwithſtanding the various reports to the contrary will not be ſworn in by a mandamus, nor take his ſeat in the court of Aldermen, till the expiration of his ſentence.

NOVEMBER 4.

From the general converſation of the premier, in general company, there is not the leaſt room for ſtrangers to gather, that the petitions (numerous as they are) will have the ſmalleſt effect; but thoſe who know the miniſter well, pretend to diſcover, through all this behaviour, a certain latent trepidation, that every thing muſt give way to the popular clamour.

A very great patriot, in the eyes of the public in general, but of the livery in particular, has we are aſſured, within theſe two days declared, "That the expectations of the people muſt be complied with;" and that "if petitions alone will not do, remonſtrances muſt follow."

NOVEMBER 6.

By the laſt advices from Paris we learn, that the miniſter there is taking all the precaution in his power, to prevent the flame of Liberty, which blazes ſo much in this kingdom, from ſpreading to that nation; that beſides ſending the nobleman to the Baſtile for petitioning againſt him, he has lately ſuppreſſed an Engliſh tranſlation of the Empreſs of Ruſſia's grand inſtructions, for forming a new code of laws, written by her own hand; a work abounding with the genuine principles of liberty, therefore not fit to be read by the ſubjects of an arbitrary monarch.

It is rumoured, that Lord Chatham will intereſt himſelf in promoting the ſcheme now in agitation, for introducing an American repreſentation in parliament.

It is generally ſuppoſed, that a certain great aſſembly, upon their meeting, will immediately take into conſideration the late petitions preſented to his Majeſty, and that all neceſſary preparations are making for that purpoſe.

A correſpondent obſerves, that the only way to put an end to our preſent unhappy political diſputes, is to leſſen the ſalaries of all employments under the crown, as it is well known the pecuniary emoluments attending thoſe in power, are the objects of envy and party rage.

N[illegible]ber, that the preſent behaviour of the m——y ſhall not provoke him to relinquiſh the C——l, nor will he reſign the ſeals until they are demanded by his royal maſter, and then he will deliver them into his own hands.

We have received the following anecdote from undoubted authority: A great perſonage talking a few days ago to a Knight, who has the direction of the new-paving of the ſtreets, paid him a compliment upon that ſubject; ſaying, that the ſtage-coach rolled ſmoothly over the new pavement leading to the parliament-houſe. The Knight ſaid, that he wiſhed his m——y had a new p——t H——e, as well as new pavement leading to it; for that, at preſent, it was not ſuitable to the grandeur of this nation. The great perſonage replied, I have no objection to a new P——t H——e, but I am determined to keep the old furniture.

We hear a certain great man declared, on a late occaſion, when there was a talk of a change in ſome of the departments, that "whoever was in or out, ſo long as he had the management "of the treaſury, he would always anſwer for inſuring a "majority of votes on every queſtion."

We are very credibly informed, that it is the poſitive reſolution and advice of the a——n, to pay no regard to the petitions which have been, or may be preſented, for the redreſſing of grievances; but to treat them all with the moſt thorough and determined contempt. This kind of advice was given to that miſguided Prince, Charles the firſt; who became ſo attached to his wicked miniſters, and continued ſo long OBSTINATE and deaf to the cries of his people, that at length he could not retreat.

A gentleman who is perfectly intimate with Dr. Muſgrave, and hath ſeen his proofs, is juſt come to town, and aſſures us, that the Doctor hath poſitive proof of the money given by France for the peace, to whom (the —— —— of ——,) and that D'Eon hath a penſion of 500*l.* a year from the —— purſe.

It is now confidently reported, that among other changes in the colonies, the following promotions will ſpeedily take place:

Lauthlin Macleane, Eſq; member for Arundel, to be appointed his Majeſty's Captain General, and Governor in chief of the ceded Weſt-India iſlands of Granada, &c. &c.

Michael Scott, Eſq; to be Chief Juſtice of all theſe iſlands.

William Mackintoſh, Eſq; to be Collector of his Majeſty's Cuſtoms in Grenada.

Alexander Johnſton, Eſq; to be re-appointed to the Lieutenant Colonelſhip of the 70th regiment of foot at Grenada, with the government of Dominica, which is ſpeedily to be ſeparated. And

Patrick Ferguſon, a Captain in the 70th regiment to be appointed Lieutenant Governor of Tobago.

NOVEMBER 8.

This day, about one o'clock, the Right Hon. the Lord Mayor, William Beckford, Eſq; the Lord Mayor Elect, with ſeveral of Aldermen, and the two Sheriffs, attended at Guildhall, when the new Lord Mayor was ſworn into that office, and the chair and other enſigns of Mayoralty were ſurrendered to him, after the accuſtomed manner; the ſtreets were prodigiouſly crowded, and the acclamations of the people were almoſt incredible.

We are aſſured, the troops on the Irish eſtabliſhment will be conſiderably augmented the enſuing winter, and that ſuch effectual and ſagacious meaſures have been taken, with reſpect to this ſtep, that it will be accompliſhed, without putting the people of that kingdom out of humour.

By a letter from the continent we hear, that Lord Holland's diſorder has rendered him ſo weak, that he is unable to give himſelf any aſſiſtance, and that his phyſicians expect his Lordſhip unleſs ſome unexpected criſis happens, cannot ſurvive but a ſhort time.

A great Dutcheſs, who is now on a tour to ſome parts of Germany, it is ſaid, is empowered to negociate a matter of great importance.

We hear that the celebrated Dr. Lucas, the Irish patriot, is shortly expected in London, from Dublin, in order to lay a complaint, of an extraordinary nature, before a Great Personage.

NOVEMBER 9.

Advice is said to be received, that when the last express arrived at Smyrna from Constantinople, the banner of Mahomet had been displayed from the top of the tower of the Grand Signior's seraglio, which was never done but in the most dangerous insurrections.

The Russians are now in possession of the capital of Moldavia, and when the last accounts came away, were laying siege to Bender, with 20,000 men, which is the last fortress but one till they arrive at Constantinople.

Letters from Vienna, dated Oct. 21, say, That an ordinance will soon be issued for levying 30,000 militia men in the Austrian Low Countries, next spring.

It is asserted that advices of a very interesting and alarming nature, with respect to the colonies, have lately been transmitted from North America.

The Earl of Rose did not choose to pass thro' Dover in his way to France, but preferred the longer passage of the sea from Brighthelmstone to Dieppe, notwithstanding his ill state of health.

The damages laid in the cause between Lord Halifax and the popular Patriot, are 20,000l.

In a few days General Melville will set out for the West-Indies, to take upon him the government of the five ceded islands, to which he is appointed.

NOVEMBER 10.

They write from Genoa, that several capital ships of war are now building, with all expedition, at Caghara, the chief city of the island of Sardinia, by order of the court of Turin.

It is said a patent is preparing to create Sir Jeffery Amherst a Peer.

We hear, that the Emperor of Germany, and his brother the Grand Duke of Tuscany, are shortly expected in England, and that they will take up their residence at Norfolk-house, in St. James's-square, during their continuance in this kingdom.

This day at noon, the Right Hon. William Beckford, Lord-Mayor of this city, with Samuel Turner, Esq; late Lord-Mayor, attended by six of the Aldermen and the two Sheriffs, set out from Guildhall in a very grand procession to the Three Cranes, where they went in the city barge, attended by the several companies in their barges, adorned with streamers and pendants to Westminster, and having walked round the hall, and solemnly saluted all the courts, they went to the Exchequer-bar, and the Lord-Mayor there took the oaths appointed, &c. The state-coach, magnificently adorned, drawn by a fine set of new foreign horses, preceded by eight footmen in very rich liveries, added much to the dignity and splendor of the procession.

The Recorder was not in the procession.

Among the noble persons who came to town to honour the city on this occasion, was Lord and Lady Temple.

The cover to the coach-box of the state-coach of the Lord Mayor, is crimson velvet, curiously wrought; in the centre are embossed his arms, with the following motto: Libertas pretiosior auro. Which is, "liberty is more precious than gold;" and on the front, on the sides, and the back part, are the city arms, and those of the Ironmongers company, the cap of liberty, and various flowers in gold, and a fringe of gold round the edges.

On Wednesday the Colonels Hale and Evelyn kissed his Majesty's hand, the former on his promotion to the 20th, and the latter to the 29th regiment of foot.

On Friday last at William Clayton's, Esq; of Harlyford, Bucks, was tried, a new and curious pump, invented by the Rev. Mr. Gainsborough, at Henley; when, contrary to the opinion of divers workmen, who had pronounced it impossible, it answered to admiration; raising the water by the power of the atmosphere, ingeniously aided by the weight of the water, 50 feet perpendicular [illegible] o the shore above, quantity and time, as done only half that [illegible] serted in the papers, of Lord Holland's departure from this kingdom, and as positively contradicted as they were asserted. That his Lordship is abroad I will not pretend to affirm; but I doassure you, his coach and baggage are on board a ship in our harbour, which will sail the first fair wind."

NOVEMBER 11.

The following is a short account of the proceedings between Mr. Wilkes and the Earl of Halifax, previous to the trial which came on yesterday.

Wilkes, Esq; against the Earl of Halifax and the three messengers, who executed the general warrant: Original was sued out, tested June 1; and returnable June 19, 1763; and the Earl being summoned, cast an essoign; which was adjourned till Nov. 18.—Then comes in privilege; which being at an end, and all the essoigns expired, a distringas was taken out, tested May 9, 1764, returnable May 27.—The Sheriff returns 400. issues.—The Earl does not appear.—The court directs 50l. issues.—An alias distringas is taken out, tested May 30, and returnable June 18.—The Sheriff returns his issues, the Earl does not appear.—The court orders 500l. issues.—A pluries distringas is taken out, tested June 22, and returnable July 8.—In November (1764) Mr. Wilkes was outlawed, and here the affair dropped: But the outlawry being reversed on the 8th of June, 1768, the court of Common Pleas was moved on the 10th of that month, that Mr. Wilkes might have leave to revive his cause, which was accordingly granted soon after.

Yesterday morning at ten o'clock came on at the court of Common Pleas in Westminster-Hall, the trial between the Right Hon. Lord Halifax, and John Wilkes, Esq; when after the council had opened it, the Right Hon. Lord Temple, Humphry Cootes, Esq; Mr. Beardmore, Mr. Philips, and several others, were examined, in order to prove the manner in which Mr. Wilkes was taken up, and the uncivil treatment he met with during his confinement in the Tower. Col. Onslow, in his examination, could not recollect the receiving a letter from Mr. Wilkes; but Mr. Philips on his examination, produced a copy of the said letter he had received from Col. Onslow himself, which occasioned a laugh throughout the court. The general charges were admitted by the defendants, notwithstanding the trial lasted till eight o'clock, when the jury brought in a verdict for Mr. Wilkes, with 4000l. damages.

Lords Weymouth and Rochfort were subpœna'd. As soon as the court was opened, they desired to be dispatched, as it was post-day. On which Serjeant Glynn asked them, if they had the general warrants in their possession, granted by Lord Halifax, to seize Mr. Wilkes's papers? and on their answering in the negative, Serjeant Glynn told them that was all he wanted to know of them, and they retired.

The council for the plaintiff were, Mr. Serjeant Glynn, Mr. Serjeant Leigh, Counsellor Leigh, and Mr. Davenport. For the defendant, Mr. Serjeant Davy, Mr. Serjeant Nares, and Mr. Serjeant Whitaker.

As soon as the verdict was known in the Hall, the too sanguine expectations of the populace appeared to be disappointed, as they expressed their dissatisfaction by groans, hisses, and other marks of insult.

Mr. Serjeant Glynn's speech on the trial, was reckoned the most spirited ever pronounced at the bar, and on coming out of court he received with the greatest acclamations.

[illegible] heard that Mr. Wilkes will shortly commence two actions against Lord Halifax, one for an assault, the other [illegible] hath more than once declared, that he should not consider himself worthy of the name of a P——, if he ever forgave Mr. W——.

Yesterday the Right Hon. the Earl of Harcourt set out again on his embassy to the court of France.

The following are Copies of the Petitions of the Counties of York and Somerset, and of the City of Westminster to his Majesty.

COPY of the YORK PETITION.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE your Majesty's most loyal and and faithful subjects the freeholders of the county of York, equally solicitous for the honour of your Majesty's government, and for the preservation of our most happy and excellent constitution, beg leave to approach your Royal Throne, and humbly to lay before your Majesty the anxiety of our minds, on a matter of the greatest national concern.

As the county of York has been eminently distinguished by its zeal for your Majesty's illustrious family, so has it ever been strongly attached to that system of laws, which your Majesty's ancestors were called to protect. By these laws we are taught, that it is the undoubted right of the subject to petition the King, and the exercise of that right becomes the duty of the subject, whenever an ill-advised measure threatens to impair that equal state of legal liberty, for which this nation has long been respected abroad, and by which it has been made happy at home.

We find ourselves called to the exercise of that right, and the discharge of that duty, by apprehensions of the tendency of that measure, which has nominated a representative to the county of Middlesex, in opposition to the votes of a great majority of the freeholders, and in prejudice of that freedom of election, which your faithful commons are entitled to by the laws and constitution of this country.

We respect, as we ought, the authority of the House of Commons; and their just privileges will ever be dear to the people; but the House of Commons derives its existence from the people, who never have intrusted that house with an authority to supercede the choice of the electors, or to create, by a vote, an incapacity unknown to the law. If this were the privilege of the House of Commons, it will soon render that house a body chosen by its own members, and not the representatives of the people. It is, therefore, with unspeakable concern, that we are obliged to represent to your Majesty, that this event hath produced a situation new and extraordinary in this government, the representatives of the people in opposition to the people.

This situation would be miserable indeed, had not the wisdom of our ancestors provided, even for this grievance, a regular and constitutional remedy. The power of assembling and dissolving parliaments is undoubtedly one of the rights vested in your Majesty, for the welfare of the people, and by their consent. The voice of a loyal people now calls for the exercise of this power; and our most essential rights are to be preserved by it.

Permit us then, Royal Sir, to implore your Majesty to restore the confidence of your people in the justice of parliament, by sending them to a new choice of representatives, which will give your loyal subjects an opportunity of demonstrating their zeal for the constitution, by a choice of men, who will guard the honour of the crown, and support the rights of the people.

COPY of the SOMERSET PETITION.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

YOUR Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects the freeholders of the county of Somerset, ever firmly attached to your Majesty's person and family, approach your royal presence with a perfect confidence that their just and lawful petitions will always find an easy access to the throne of justice.

If their silence, at this alarming crisis, would not be construed into an approbation of the measures long adopted by your Majesty's ministers, a particular detail of which will be tedious to enumerate: If such a conduct was not highly criminal, [illegible] the part of hearing the complaints of an injured people, and wait with patience and resignation the return of more happy times.

They cannot help regretting a loss of those blessings which Providence ordained to this nation, when it placed your Majesty on the throne: They see those royal virtues, which ought to constitute the happiness of a people, counteracted by the depravity of the age, and treachery of wicked counsellors. What greater evil can befal a state, than an attack on its liberty and security, from those who are intended to be its guardians and protectors? In this dreadful situation your people find themselves; victorious over foreign powers, they are in danger of destruction from domestic enemies. They have seen a new and unwarrantable doctrine established, which shakes the whole fabric of this once happy constitution: A precedent patronized by your Majesty's ministers, and confirmed by the decision of the representatives of the kingdom in parliament assembled. They have seen a member of the House of Commons elected by that house in opposition to the voice of the real electors, whom in such case the law of the land has declared to be the freeholders of Great-Britain.

Thus alarmed for their long established rights and privileges, and despairing of a remedy from those who ought to administer it, they apply to that hand which alone can yield them redress. They humbly and earnestly pray, that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to remove those ministers from your councils, and that your Majesty will diss—— that P——t, in which your people can no longer place a confidence; but, on the contrary, from a fatal experience of its principles, have reason to expect still greater and more dangerous innovations on the liberties of this country.

And your petitioners, as in duty bound, will ever pray.

COPY of the WESTMINSTER PETITION.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Petition of the Electors of the City and Liberty of Westminster, within the County of Middlesex,

Sheweth,

THAT your petitioners having, in common with the rest of your Majesty's loyal subjects, felt the weight of a variety of grievances and oppressions, cannot longer be silent on the subject of a late violent and most alarming invasion of their liberties, which threatens the certain and speedy annihilation of our most excellent constitution itself.

Your petitioners do, therefore, most humbly beg leave to lay before your Majesty, that the freeholders of the county of Middlesex did, in obedience to your Majesty's writ of election, on the 13th of April last, freely and indifferently elect John Wilkes, Esq; a person duly qualified, according to the statutes in that behalf made and provided; that such election was ascertained by a poll regularly taken by the sheriff: By which poll it appeared, that 1143 freeholders voted for the said John Wilkes, Esq; and only 295 for Henry-Lawes Luttrell, Esq; that the sheriff, according to the direction of the statute, and the oath taken by all returning officers, declared the election to have fallen upon the said John Wilkes, Esq; and returned him to parliament one of the representatives of the said county: That a majority of the H—— of C——s (whom your petitioners have great reason to apprehend are under the immediate influence of your Majesty's ministers) have declared the said election and return to be null and void; and the said Henry-Lawes Luttrell they have admitted and sworn in representative of the county. That your petitioners affirm these proceedings to be unjust, injurious to the freedom of election, a violation of the rights of the people, and subversive of the first principles of the British constitution. That your petitioners have no hope of redress but from the throne; and that they do most humbly and earnestly implore your Majesty, as the great guardian of the liberties of this free nation, to interpose your royal authority, by d——g this p——t, and calling another as speedy as may be.

And your petitioners, as in duty bound, shall ever pray.

To be Sold by private Contract,

THE HOUSE and LAND where Mrs. HYRNE now lives, situate on the South Side of QUEEN-STREET, and next Door to Mr. ROBERT PHILP's.—The Land measures in Front Thirty-two Foot, and in Depth two Hundred and Forty-one, or thereabouts.—It has all necessary and convenient Back-buildings, with a Well of good Water; Is suitable for a large Family, the Dwelling-House having seven Rooms, and a good Cellar underneath.—The Whole of the Buildings not quite three Years old, and are well finished. The Terms of Sale will be made known by applying to

BENJAMIN HUGER, Esq; or

JOSIAH SMITH, Jun.

The Subscriber hath for SALE,

ABOUT 15,000 Acres of exceeding good LAND, lying on Santee, and Edisto-Rivers, and the Waters thereof, and between 50 and 100 Miles from Charles-Town, in Tracts of any Size, from 100 to 3000 Acres, several of which lie on both Sides of the said Rivers, have very large Fronts, and good Proportions of Swamp and high Land.

The Land, in general, is as good for Corn, Indico, Hemp, or Rice, as any in the Province.

One of the Tracts consists of about 2500 Acres, and is a most commodious Place for a Saw-Mill to work three Saws, having a good Creek running through it, upon which a Mill may very conveniently be built as near as is proper to the main Santee-River: Besides the Mill-Seat on said Tract, which abounds with good Pine and Cypress Timber contiguous, there is so much good River Swamp, as to render it a most complete Hemp or Indico Plantation.

Sundry other small Tracts on the said Rivers, as well as Inland Tracts of one, two, to 500 Acres, are very commodious for small Settlements.

All the Land is exceeding well watered, and the only Fault that can be found with any, is, that it is not convenient to any but fresh-Water Landings, which renders it rather fitter for the Culture of Hemp and Indico than Rice; and indeed most of the Swamp is rather of the Quality that suits the two former best.

The Owner of said Lands, among such a Variety, doth not doubt, but he shall be able to furnish any Person inclinable to purchase, in those Parts of the Province where they lie, at what they may think a reasonable Rate. JOHN MITCHELL.

THERE are two Vacancies for Schooling CHILDREN, by the South Carolina Society. SAMUEL PRIOLEAU, Clerk.
